Following the reading and acceptance of the notice of service upon those interested by City Sheriff Rouse, the hearing on the petition to widen The following records, reported from those interested by City Si Sevin's pharmacy, show the changes the hearing on the petition temperature and the barometric Falls avenue was opened.

> Favored Widening and Track. John T. Young of the John T. Young Boller company expressed himself as heartily in favor of the proposed addition of ten feet to the street, if for no other reason than to get the spur track from the New Haven road. There has been a serious handicap be-cause of the lack of sidings in that vicinity and the change would not only aid the present ones but would be of benefit to any others which might locate there. To Councilman Babcock he said he once favored going down the center of the street with the track but that failed and he had no preference now so long as the spur was ob-

Industries Need It. Henry G. Peck, of the Peck, McWilliams Co., favored the project. He pointed out that the city owned land to the north of the industrial buildings and the Young Boiler company which would be valuable for manufacturing purposes provided there could be a siding built there. The facilities at present are inadequate and business is therefore handicapped for lack of a place to set cars.

There is room to the east and north of Falis avenue and with such a track the land could be made available for rental. To Councilman Babcock he said that his company was not only willing to move the building which they had on the avenue since the Central wharf fire for storage purposes but that they would have to do so and but that they would have to do so and hey would be willing to take what he city assigned them as a new locaion for which rent would be paid as n the past. To Mayor Murphy he ald he would approve removing all the buildings to the east of the avenue allow the track to parallel the cading space to the east of such a Need More Siding Room.

Attorney Albert J. Bailey, represent-ig the Norwich Chamber of Comnetce, favored the widening. Now here is room for but five cars on the New Haven's siding in that vicinity. Coulght 11 cars are waiting to be set in that siding and but two can get a place meaning that nine others must wait. The extension would provide the accommodation and help business, which change the city has a right to Road Willing to Build. C. J. Isbister, agent for the New Ha-ven road here, told of the handicap for siding facilities here. Business has increased and still there are no better advantages. He spoke of the lack of

He exhibit track of the New Haven road north. Several spoke in favor of the north. Several spoke in favor of the changes and advanced reasons why it would be a benefit to the city to add to the effort made in 1912 to have the change made, he said that a vice pres-ident of the road had stated that if a spur track on its easterly side in order to increase the facilities for road would build the siding. There are few where sid-ings are available but this is an ex-Called to order soon after a clock by Mayor Murphy the roll call by ings are available but this is an excellent Crowell showed all members in attendance except Councilman Kinder. The minutes of the last meeting were that the road would guarantee or how soon it would see the money with how soon it would see the money with which the spur could be built. He thought it would be proper to parallel the wharf and that others would have storehouses in that vicinity from which cars could be loaded or unloaded. He didn't think the deep was to have the unloading done in the street and the switching would be done at Mr. Isbister doubted if any arrangement could be made whereby the Cen-tral Vermont could use the New Haven tracks without the usual charges, but he said it would be possible for that road to sent a spur, onto Hollyhock island from Ulmer's tannery vicinity. A letter was read from J. C. Henderson, treasurer of the Norwich Industrial Building company which pointed out that their storehouse stands ten feet on the section which it is proposed to widen. It was be-lieved that the avenue was as wide when built as it ever would be. The company would take down that secthat it would not be required to act until it was actually necessary to lay the tracks.

He didn't think the idea was to Hardship to Business. E. H. Hammond of the Hammond Process company at Thamesville con-sidered such a siding would be of much value to his company and to others in that section as it is a bet-ter haul than into the center of the city. He referred to the hardship to tention to the feasibility of using that for unloading purposes and at the same time leave the dock available if at any time boats can be brought up

Central Vermont Favorable. Mr. Young declared that the Central Vermont had at one time offered to build a spur onto Hollyhock Island and room had been left near his plant for such a purpose.

Action Deferred. No others wanting to be heard the searing was closed and upon the motion of Alderman Gebrath a recess was taken to discuss the matter in private. Jpon returning to the council chamher twenty minutes later moved that the matter be referred to the public works committee which action was taken.
